Let's learn about...

TUES., JULY 16 - DAY 1

WHAT ARE YOU STANDING ON?

Soil can be found almost everywhere you step, but how much do you really think about it?

Did you know that there are more living creatures in a handful of soil than there are people on earth?

Discover what's really going on in your soil and explore the crucial roles it plays in allowing our environment to thrive.

WED., JULY 17 - DAY 2

SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST

Would you expect to see a penguin dashing across a grassland or an ostrich splashing in arctic waters? Probably not, because penguins lack long legs for running and ostriches lack flippers for swimming. How did these two birds become so different? Find out how some of our native species have adapted to their environments & learn about the processes by which this occurs.

THURS., JULY 18 - DAY 3

BABES IN THE WOODS

Human babies need a lot of care once they're born, but many animal babies are expected to fend for themselves from the moment they enter the world! From camouflage to chemical weapons, learn about the variety of adaptations animals have developed in order to keep from becoming someone's dinner.

FRI., JULY 19 - DAY 4

OUT OF THIN AIR

You may do it every single day, but do you understand how breathing actually works? What about for other animals like fish, birds, insects, and amphibians? What other functions does air provide in the environment, both inside and outside animals' bodies? Learn the answers to all of these questions and more!
